

Business

CWN visits Environmental Concern

Published: Sunday, June 8, 2008 6:53 AM CDT

ST. MICHAELS Chesapeake Women's Network held its May meeting at Environmental Concern Inc. (EC) in St. Michaels.

Suzanne Pittenger-Slear, president and CEO of EC, facilitated the meeting, assisted by Robin Harrison, controller, and Leslie Hunter-Cario, nursery manager. Environmental Concern is a public nonprofit corporation dedicated to the preservation of wetlands. The company's purpose is wetland stewardship, native plant horticulture, restoration/creation and enhancements as well as teaching others how to be better stewards.

CWN's next meeting will be held at noon Tuesday, June 17, at Scossa restaurant in Easton. Scholarships will be awarded at this meeting. CWN welcomes guests and new members.

To RSVP for the June 17 meeting or for more information, call Joanna Waterman-Boockfor at 410-310-6595.

Print Page

Pictured with CWN event attendees are Board of Director members Marilyn Kendall, Joanna Waterman-Boockfor, Debbie Walsworth, Anne Cassidy, Pam Sard, Marcia Burgoon, Marilyn DeYoung and Maggie Jarboe.

Copyright © 2009 - The Star-Democrat

[\[x\] Close Window](#)